For the past 25 years at Elliot Ifraimoff & Associates, P.C. we have been diligently fighting for the rights of our injured clients. Some of our cases are resolved through an out of court settlement while others, where clients' damages are severe and we see the potential for a significant outcome, are litigated in court and even resolved through a Jury Trial. What's at the heart of our decision making process on whether to go to court or not is our client's best interest!

It has always been our mission to obtain an outstanding result, as quickly as possible in every case while providing great service to every client! In this issue you will read some of our success stories. It is a distinct honor and a privilege for us to continue serving our community.

$5 MILLION SETTLEMENT

We Are Proud to Announce a Major Victory on Behalf of Our Client

We represented a gentleman in his mid-30s who was seriously injured in a motor vehicle collision at an intersection. Our client had the right of way when a truck traveling in the opposite direction entered the intersection and struck his vehicle.

Following the accident, our client made every effort to return to work while undergoing treatment for his injuries. However, his condition continued to worsen, ultimately requiring spinal surgery the following year. His injuries ultimately left him unable to return to work.

The defendants refused to make any settlement offer throughout years of litigation. We pushed the case to trial. After jury selection, the defendants were finally forced to acknowledge the full extent of our client's damages, and the case settled for $5 million.

Uber Accident $705,000

Result achieved within 8 months from the accident date

In the Summer of 2025, our client was a passenger in an Uber. While attempting to make a left turn, the Uber driver failed to yield the right-of-way and collided with an oncoming vehicle.

As a result of the crash, our client suffered significant injuries to her neck, back, left shoulder, and left knee. Diagnostic imaging revealed multiple cervical disc herniations, along with ligament tears in both her left shoulder and left knee. She underwent extensive conservative treatment, including medical care and therapy, in an effort to alleviate her symptoms. When those measures failed to provide lasting relief for her cervical spine injuries, she ultimately underwent an anterior cervical discectomy and fusion (ACDF) surgery.

Claims were pursued against the responsible parties and their insurance carriers. Through aggressive pre-litigation advocacy and negotiation, our firm secured a guaranteed settlement of $705,000 on our client's behalf, avoiding the need for lengthy litigation while achieving a substantial recovery.

Hit-in-rear Accident $600,000

Obtained within 24 months from the accident date

In the Summer of 2024, our client was driving in Mount Vernon, New York, when his vehicle was rear-ended by another driver.

As a result of the crash, he suffered significant injuries to his neck and back. When those treatments failed to provide adequate relief, he ultimately underwent a series of spinal injections followed by additional pain management treatments to his neck and back. Our client's medical evaluations revealed multiple cervical and lumbar disc herniations. Although he underwent extensive conservative care, including physical therapy and pain management, he continued to experience ongoing symptoms that interfered with his daily activities.

Our firm pursued claims against the at-fault driver's insurance carrier and conducted a thorough investigation into all available sources of recovery. It was determined that the defendant's insurance coverage was insufficient to fully compensate our client for the severity of his injuries. Prior to the commencement of litigation, we secured the full policy limits of $100,000 from the defendant's insurer. We then obtained an additional $500,000 recovery through our client's underinsured motorist (UIM) coverage.

Through aggressive advocacy and strategic negotiation, within 24 months from the accident date, our firm secured a total guaranteed recovery of $600,000 on our client's behalf.

Rear-End Collision $150,000

In the Fall of 2024, our client was a passenger in a vehicle traveling on the Belt Parkway in Queens, New York, when it was struck from behind by another motorist.

As a result of the collision, client sustained serious spinal injuries as well as injuries to both shoulders. Our client was diagnosed with cervical and lumbar disc herniations, along with ligament tears in both shoulders. He underwent extensive conservative treatment, including physical therapy and pain management, but continued to experience ongoing pain and limitations. When those treatments failed to provide sufficient relief, he ultimately underwent a series of spinal injections followed by cervical and lumbar discectomy procedures.

Our firm pursued claims against the responsible parties and their insurance carriers. Through thorough preparation and aggressive negotiation, we secured a guaranteed settlement of $150,000 on our client's behalf prior to the commencement of litigation.

Car Accident

$3,000,000

We represented a man who was stopped in traffic when his vehicle was struck from behind by another driver. As a result of the collision, our client sustained serious spinal injuries.

Despite undergoing extensive conservative treatment, his injuries and symptoms persisted, ultimately requiring spinal surgery.

The defense attempted to attribute our client's injuries to his prior medical history and refused to make a meaningful settlement offer despite years of litigation. We refused to entertain any offers that failed to provide our client with full justice. On the eve of trial, the defense finally agreed to resolve the case for $3,000,000.

Fall-down Accident

$295,000

In the Spring of 2024, our client was exiting her daughter's apartment in Queens, New York, when she slipped and fell on a wet hallway floor inside the building.

As a result of the fall, client sustained serious injuries to her neck, back, left shoulder, and left elbow. She was diagnosed with multiple cervical and lumbar disc herniations as well as ligament tears in her left shoulder and left elbow. The client underwent an extensive course of conservative treatment; however, when those measures failed to provide adequate relief for her neck, back, and left shoulder injuries, she ultimately required three procedures, including cervical and lumbar discectomies and arthroscopic surgery to her left shoulder.

Our firm commenced a premises liability lawsuit against the building owner, alleging negligence in the maintenance of the property. Through diligent advocacy and strategic negotiation, we secured a guaranteed settlement of $295,000 on our client's behalf prior to trial.

Every Auto policy should include Uninsured/Underinsured Motorist Coverage

It is important to make sure you have sufficient auto insurance protection. You do not want to find out after an accident that you are not covered. Purchase Uninsured/ Supplemental Underinsured Motorist coverage (UM/SUM). This coverage is relatively inexpensive, and every driver should have it.

Never sign UM/SUM waivers.

UM coverage protects you in a hit-and-run accident or when a negligent driver in an automobile accident has no insurance. It pays you compensation for pain and suffering and economic loss.

SUM coverage safeguards you if you are injured by a careless driver who has only the minimal amount of insurance coverage. However, your SUM coverage limits must be higher than the coverage limits available in the defendant's liability insurance policy. For example, if the defendant in your case carries a liability policy in the amount of $25,000 and your Supplemental Underinsured Motorist benefits are $100,000, we may be able to first obtain the $25,000 for you from the defendant and then collect additional compensation for you, up to $75,000 ($100,000 SUM limits minus $25,000 already obtained) from your Sum policy.

Protect yourself Be sure you have sufficient auto coverage for every driver in the family. Talk to your auto insurance agent to learn the extent that your UM/SUM coverage will safeguard you and your family. If the coverage is inadequate, increase your coverage. It is typically a minimal cost and worth the protection.
